Social and Emotional

- Self-Regulation. Greet all children each morning by name and smile.
- Talk with children, pay attention to their feelings and listen to their coos and words.
- Take time to follow a child's lead. Join them in floor-time play and talk with them about their activities whenever possible.
- Gently guide children through social situations: Babies love to look at other babies.
- Be a positive role model: Offer children opportunities to observe you being a kind and caring person.
